SEMI-INDEPENDENT HOSTED MAURITIUS GETAWAY

📅 05/06/2026
🌙 9 Nights

We've been listening carefully to our solo lady travellers.

So many of you have told us that while you love the idea of travelling with like-minded women, you don't necessarily want a fully escorted tour with a rigid schedule... and you don't always want a full-on wellness or yoga retreat either.

- A relaxing beach holiday.
- Plenty of optional activities you can dip in and out of.
- A friendly, hosted group you can join for excursions and dinner, but with the freedom to do your own thing whenever you choose.

So we've created exactly that...

An Exclusive 9-Night Semi-Independent Escape to Mauritius

Just 10 places available!

Hosted by Palvi Harvey, a travel professional of over ten years and a true Mauritius expert, this small-group experience offers the perfect blend of independence and connection. Palvi will host shared activities and dinners, coordinate optional excursions, and be on hand throughout, while always giving you space to enjoy Mauritius your way.

And because we know how important this is, you will have your own private room throughout. No sharing. Just your own sanctuary.

Your holiday begins in style with a complimentary airport lounge pass at London Gatwick, where Palvi will meet you before your overnight direct flight. It's a relaxed, welcoming start to the journey and gives you time to get to know one another before take-off.

After your overnight flight, you'll arrive in Mauritius early in the morning, ready to enjoy your very first day in paradise.

You'll spend:

3 nights at Canonnier Beachcomber Golf Resort & Spa:

Located in Grand Baie, close to the beautiful beaches of Trou aux Biches and Grand Bay, this is the perfect setting to ease into island life. Relax by the sea, try water sports, explore locally, or join the group for dinner, entirely at your own pace.

Then,

4 nights at Shandrani Beachcomber Resort & Spa

Here, relaxation and indulgence take centre stage. Included is a luxurious spa experience featuring a one-hour signature massage, a Milky Way facial and a group yoga session; all optional, of course. With multiple beaches and exceptional facilities, Shandrani offers space to truly unwind.

Mauritius itself is a captivating blend of cultures, flavours and landscapes, from lush forests and cascading waterfalls to colourful markets, rum tastings, historic stamps and the southern hemisphere's oldest racecourse. Join the group to explore, or simply enjoy the rhythm of island life.

On your final day, you'll enjoy a full day in resort before a short transfer to the airport for your overnight flight home, returning refreshed, relaxed and newly connected.

This is Mauritius: relaxed, welcoming and wonderfully flexible.

Travel independently, but never alone.

Join in as much or as little as you wish.

With just ten places available, this intimate hosted escape offers the perfect balance of freedom, friendship and tropical luxury.

DESTINATION GUIDE: MAURITIUS

It is easy to run out of adjectives when attempting to describe the natural beauty of the small tropical Indian Ocean island paradise of Mauritius. The volcanic island covered with lush forest streams and waterfalls and fringed with palms dazzling white sands and teeming coral reefs lies east of Madagascar just south of the Equator.

Mauritius covering just 720 square miles (1 864 sq km) is the archetypal dream destination for an idyllic holiday equipped with modern resorts that have been carefully developed to preserve the island's beauty and ecology. Mark Twain is quoted as having said that 'Mauritius was made first then heaven was copied from it' and anyone who has experienced the island would no doubt agree with him.

Along with its natural beauty Mauritius has a valuable tourist resource in the warmth and friendliness of its multicultural population. Since being officially 'discovered' in 1505 by the Portuguese the island has been occupied by the Dutch the French and the British. All have added to the melting pot that constitutes the island's human heritage along with injections of African slaves Arab traders and Chinese indentured labourers over the centuries.

Most of the tourist resorts in Mauritius are situated along the 205 mile (330km) coastline with the capital Port Louis on the west coast being the centre of operations for most visitors. The bulk of the population however reside on the central plateau around Curepipe the island's other major town.

Although everyone who takes a holiday in Mauritius comes for the sandy beaches and blue lagoons most are delighted to discover that the island has plenty of other attractions too from some of the world's rarest stamps to the first ever race course to open in the southern hemisphere. Of course no holiday would be complete without good food and entertainment and Mauritius offers both with some delicious local cuisine that makes use of tropical fruits and vegetables and the chance to learn the island's indigenous wild dance the Sega which originated among the African slaves of yore.
